South-Carolina Gazette.

From MONDAY July 29th, to MONDAY Auguſt 5th, 1751.

LONDON, April 13.

AT half an hour after one in the morning, the bowels of his late royal highneſs, which, in an urn cover'd with crimſon velvet, were brought from Leiceſter Houſe in a coach and ſix to the prince's chamber, were from thence carried by 4 yeomen to Henry VII's chapel, attended by the duke of Chandois and Queenſberry, the earl of Middleſex, the lord North and Guildford, Sir John Ruſhout, Bart. George Doddington, Henry Drax, and John Evelyn, Eſqrs, and there interr'd, in the vault in which the royal corpſe was, exactly at 9 o'clock the ſame night, depoſited.—The proceſſion began at half an hour after 8 at night, and paſſed through the Old Palace Yard to the ſoutheaſt door of Weſtminſter Abbey, and ſo directly to the ſteps leading to Henry VII's chapel. The ceremonial was as follows:

Knight marſhal's men, with black ſtaves, 2 and 2.
Gentlemen ſervants to his royal highneſs, 2 and 2, viz.

Yeomen of the guard to cloſe the proceſſion.

The corpſe of his royal highneſs was met at the church door by the dean and prebendaries, attended by the gentlemen of the choir and king's ſcholars, who fell into the proceſſion immediately before the officer of arms, with wax tapers in their hands, and properly habited, and began the common burial ſervice (no anthem being compoſed on this occaſion) two drums beating a dead march during the ſervice. Upon entering the chapel, the royal body was placed on treſſels, the crown and cuſhion at the head, and the canopy held over, the ſupporters of the pall ſtanding by; the chief mourner and his two ſupporters ſeated in chairs at the head of the corpſe; the lords aſſiſtants, maſter of the horſe, groom of the ſtole, and lords of the bedchamber on both ſides; the four white ſtaff officers at the feet, the others ſeating themſelves in the ſtalls on each ſide the chapel; the biſhop of Rocheſter, dean of Weſtminſter then read the firſt part of the burial ſervice, after which the corpſe was carried to the vault, preceded by the white ſtaff officers, the maſter of the horſe, chief mourner, his ſupporters and aſſiſtants, garter king at arms going before them. When they had placed themſelves near the vault, the corpſe being laid upon a machine even with the pavement of the chapel, was by degrees let down into the vault, when the biſhop of Rocheſter went on with the ſervice; which being ended, Garter proclaimed his late royal highneſs's titles in the following manner:

Thus it hath pleaſed almighty God to take out of this tranſitory life to his divine mercy the illuſtrious Frederick prince of Wales, &c. &c.

The nobility and attendants returned in the ſame order as they proceeded, at half an hour after nine; ſo that the whole ceremony laſted an hour.

There was the utmoſt decorum obſerved; and, what is remarkable, tho' the populace were extremely noiſy before the proceſſion began, there was, during the whole, a ſilence, that, if poſſible, added to the ſolemnity of ſo awful a ſight.

The guards, who each of them held two lighted flambeaux during the whole time, behaved ſo well, that we do not hear of any accidents happening among the ſpectators that are remarkable.

As ſoon as the proceſſion began to move, two rockets were fired off in Old Palace Yard, as a ſignal for the guns in the park to fire, which was followed by thoſe of the tower; during which time the great bells of Weſtminſter, and St. Paul's cathedral tolled, as did thoſe of moſt of the churches in London.

The ſoldiers were kept on guard all Saturday night, and on Sunday at the ſouth door of the abbey, and on the ſcaffolding in Palace-Yard. And yeſterday morning the workmen began to take down the ſcaffolding.

The following inſcription was engraved on a Silver plate, and affix'd to the coffin of his royal highneſs the prince of Wales.

London, April 18. At the South-Sea houſe the following queſtion was determined in the affirmative, by ballot of the proprietors. "That fifteen directors, with a governor, ſub and deputy governor, are ſufficient to manage the South-Sea company's affairs, and London, April 22. At Tring in Hertfordſhire, on B—d—d, a publican giving out that he was bewitched by one Oſborne and his wife, harmleſs people above 70, had it cried at ſeveral market towns, that they were to be tried by ducking this day, which occaſion'd a vaſt concourſe. The pariſh officers having removed the old couple from the workhouſe into the church for ſecurity, the mob miſſing them broke the workhouſe windows, pulled down the pales, and demoliſhed part of the houſe; and ſeizing the governor, threatened to drown him and fire the town, having ſtraw in their hands for that purpoſe. The poor wretches were at length for public ſafety delivered up, ſtript ſtark naked by the mob, their thumbs tied to their toes, then dragged two miles, and thrown into a muddy ſtream; after much ducking and ill uſage, the old woman was thrown quite naked on the bank, almoſt choaked with mud, and expired in a few minutes, being kick'd and beat with ſticks, even after ſhe was dead; and the man lies dangerouſly ill of his bruiſes; to add to the barbarity, they put the dead witch (as they called her) in bed with her huſband, and tied them together.—The coroner's inqueſt have ſince brought in their verdict wilful murder againſt Thomas Maſon, Wm Myatt, Rich. Grice, Rich. Wadley, James Proudham, John Sprouting, John May, Adam Curling, Francis Meadows, and 20 others, names unknown. The poor man is likewiſe dead of the cruel treatment he receiv'd.

London, April 29. By order of the king in council, the prayer for the royal family, to be uſed in all churches, &c. is to be in the following form, viz. "Their royal highneſſes George prince of "Wales, the princeſs dowager of Wales, the duke, the princeſſes, "and all the royal family."

London, April 30. At Glaſtonbury, Somerſetſhire, a man thirty years afflicted with an aſthma, dreamed that he ſaw near the chain gate, in the horſe-track, the cleareſt of water, and that a perſon told him if he drank a glaſs of water faſting 7 Sunday mornings he ſhould be cured, which proved true, and he atteſted it on oath; many ſince have received great benefit by it.

BRITISH OIL

(By the KING'S PATENT.)

Juſt imported, and to be ſold by the Prin. [illegible]

THIS OIL is an effectual remedy (if curable) for many diſorders incident to human bodies. It is an abſolute cure for all ſcorbutick and rheumatick diſeaſes. It cures by bathing before the fire all old contuſions and contractions of the nerves, wither'd limbs, ſtrains, ulcers, old ſores, and all fixed and wandering pains: It greatly relieves in the palſey; cures lameneſs, ſwellings, inflamations, St. Anthony's fire, takes away all blackneſs of a fall or bruiſe in an hour's time, and allays all ſwellings that uſually attend ſuch accidents: It cures all green wounds and cuts, and takes out the fire from all burns and ſcalds (if ſpeedily applied) by the firſt intention; therefore no family ought to be without this medicine in their houſes. It is almoſt an infallible remedy for the rickets in children; as alſo a certain cure for the leproſy of ever ſo long ſtanding.——Inwardly taken, it cures ulcers of the lungs, ſhortneſs of breath, phthiſick coughs, and almoſt all pains and diſorders of the breaſt and lungs; it alſo cures deafneſs to admiration; it is of excellent uſe to all farmers and graziers, as it cures all ſurfeits in Cows or Horſes, and piſſing of blood, alſo hardneſs or ſtoppage in the maw; the maggots and mange in Sheep and Dogs, and makes the hair and wool ſoon grow again. It is the moſt uſeful medicine ever yet found out for all Captains or Maſters of ſhips to take with them in their reſpective voyages, as it is an abſolute cure for the moſt obſtinate ſcurvy in any climate, as many of the Sailors belonging to Great-Britain will teſtify.

The above OIL will expel poiſon, 'tis good for the bite of a mad dog, and is an abſolute cure for the moſt obſtinate itch that has baffled the force of all other medicines.

☞ And the public are deſired to take notice, that all bottles not ſealed with the ſame as in the margin of the printed bills of direction appears, (which are given by the printer hereof with the bottles) are counterfeits and uſeleſs medicines, ſome of the venders and ſellers of which are now proſecuting with the utmoſt rigour of the law.

DIRECTIONS for taking the True Britiſh OIL.

IN all outward caſes, let the patient bathe the part affected with this oil before the fire, till a ſufficient quantity is ſoak'd in, night and morning, wrapping it up in flannel; but if any ulcer or any wound, you muſt after bathing it, dip a little lint in the oil and apply it to the wound, repeating it as before. For deafneſs, drop 4 or 5 drops into the ears, ſtopping them cloſe with wool, and repeat it as occaſion requires. For ſhort breath, phthiſicks, coughs, and other inward diſorders let the patient (if a grown perſon) take 18 or 20 drops at firſt, night and morning, in a glaſs of white wine or ale, or on a lump of ſugar, and increaſe the doſe according to the ſtrength and conſtitution of the patient, or as occaſion may require, till it comes to half a ſpoonful or more, always beginning with the ſmalleſt doſe, and the like in proportion to thoſe of younger years. In all ſcorbutick, rheumatick, or leprous diſorders, the patient muſt bathe the part affected, as above, and likewiſe take it inwardly at the ſame time, as is directed for inward diſeaſes, &c. Sailors and ſuch as are liable to the ſcurvy, muſt take 20 or 30 drops in a morning faſting, three or four times a week, which will infallibly preſerve them from that diſorder, and will likewiſe fortify them againſt the infectious air of any dangerous and intemperate climate.——For Beaſts that piſs blood or have been ſurfeited, or hardneſs or ſtoppage in the maw, you muſt boil a whole bottle of this oil in a pint of milk, and give it blood-warm, which will entirely remove the diſorder.—Cuts and green wounds are cured at twice or thrice dreſſing, by applying a little lint dipp'd in oil to the grieved part every morning and evening.

N.B. In obſtinate caſes, ſuch as the rheumatick, ſcurvy, leproſy, or ſciatick pains, after the patient has taken four or five times as above directed, they may alſo take a common ſpoonful before they are going to bed, and being cover'd up warm, 'twill work both by ſweat and urine, and will, by being a few minutes repeated, infallibly relieve the patient in any of thoſe diſorders, if curable.

☞ A Good Aſſortment of choice writing paper juſt imported in Capt. Pearſon, from London; Ink-powder, waſers, ſealing-wax, indemnifying and common bonds, mortgages, bills of ſale, bills of lading, powers of attorney, apprentices and ſervants indentures, copies of writs, ſummons and executions for the militia, juſtices warrants and executions for ſmall debts, and other blanks, to be ſold reaſonably at the New PRINTING-OFFICE; which is now removed, two doors below Col. Brewton's in TRADD STREET, (between Capt. John Lloyd's, and Mr. Savage's ſtore.)

Tho' Mr. Edward Fowler's Indiſpoſition has obliged him to leave the Province, his buſineſs is carried on by one who will make it his care to ſupply the ſaid Fowler's cuſtomers with the beſt wine, rum, ſugar, &c.

The Royal Patent MEDICINAL SNUFF,

Which radically cures moſt Distempers incident to Human Nature,

To be ſold, by Croſthwaite, Brown & Drakeford, at their ſtore in George-Town, and Thomas Croſthwaite in Charles-Town, price 15 ſh. per Paper.

The Power, Operation, Uſe, and Efficacy of the Royal Patent Medicinal Snuff.

THIS excellent medicine operates on the head as a purgative, on the ſtomach and lungs as a diſſolvent of the coagulated Phlegm; and, on the blood and juices, as an alterative.

By its operations on the head, it effectually cures confirmed agues lodged there, &c. deafneſs, blindneſs and weakneſs of ſight, and throws off the common pains in the head and gums in a few minutes; lunacies, bloody flux, or piles and jaundice in any degree; impoſthumations or ulcers, inwardly or outwardly, lethargy, gout, polypuſſes in the noſe, apoplexy and various other, and ſimilar diſorders.

By the power on the ſtomach and lungs, &c. it gradually diſſolves coagulated matter; and by the channel of the noſe, by ſtool, urine, or perſpiration, inſenſibly carries off every kind of putrefaction; and thus removing all obſtruction, or oppreſſion on the breaſt, ſtomach, or lungs, it totally eradicates the aſthma, catarrh and phthiſic; recovers to the ſtomach and nerves their genial tone and action; fortifies the breaſt, and utterly annihilates all hyſterical diſorders.

By its efficacious, alterative, and purifying quality, it cleanſes the blood and reins, reſtores the juices to their priſtine ſtate, baniſhes all relicks of former infections, and unſkilful phyſicking, and re-eſtabliſhes the whole animal oeconomy in all their natural functions.

Its ſingular uſe and excellence conſiſts in its being pleaſant in the taking, not hindering buſineſs, travelling, or is interrupted by the common courſe of eating and drinking.

It may be taken any hour of the day, or at any time of the night. And the patient is ſo far from being liable to catching cold after it, that it fortifies the head againſt taking cold; and never fails to have a very happy effect after drinking too much, or bad wine It is likewiſe ſo free from any diſagreeable operation, that it neither gripes or naſeates.

In a word, as all diſtempers affect the head principally or eventually, ſo is the noſe preſumed to be the proper channel by which all wholeſome phyſic ſhould paſs: And, however ſingular this may appear, we humbly apprehend it capable of anatomical demonſtration, as well as experimental proof.

Directions for taking the above medicinal Snuff.

TAKE half a paper of this ſnuff gradually in the evening, and, as its operation varies, according to the habit of body; or whether the patient has been accuſtomed to the taking of any other kind of ſnuff, ſo it will ſometimes bring away ſlight quantities of blood, which always eaſes the head, but is never attended with bad conſequences. It will keep its virtue ſome years in any climate.

The firſt time take on half of the double paper, and the other half in two or three days after. If the fever is very violent, or the apoplexy confirmed, three or four ſingle papers, ſo taken, uſually effects a cure.

In common pains of the head, or gums, a very little immediately relieves; and half a double paper is generally an ample remedy.

Studious People, in the inns of court, or at the univerſities, will find a very ſenſible benefit, in taking a ſmall quantity of this ſnuff, twice or three times a fortnight, at their going to reſt, as it is particularly calculated to awaken the ſpirits, and reinvigorate the whole animal ſyſtem.

The papers are impreſſed on the one ſide, the Royal Patent Medicinal Snuff; on the other are ſigned by the Patentees SMITH and MAJOR.
